BOATS AND THE LAKES - Shipwrecks

DISASTER GREAT LAKES

Megan Long

Disaster Great Lakes chronicles fifty of the most terrible events to strike people on these vast inland seas and in surrounding communities. Erratic weather on the Great Lakes has brought down ships of the War of 1812 schooners to the legendary Edmund Fitzgerald. On shore, great fires devastated young cities like Chicago and Toronto and cut huge swaths through forests. Train wrecks, explosions and environmental disasters like the Love Canal have been painful catalysts of change. In all the stories, the many ways people respond in times of crisis reveal the human core in all its complexity.

GHOST SHIPS, GALES & FORGOTTEN TALES

Wes Oleszewski

None of the stories contained within these pages are of fiction. Each is a narrative of an actual occurrence, the thrilling drama of the ordeal and the tragedy of the losses are real and need no exaggeration. The tales here will be of the obscure events that have been under-reported, or forgotten altogether.

TERRIFYING STEAMBOAT STORIES

James L. Donahue

Historian James L. Donahue gives readers a glimpse of the romantic age of steamships from the day the Walk-In-The-Water puffed her way across Lake Erie in 1818 until diesel engines took over almost 150 years later. The stories will range from horrifying tales of shipwrecks to humorous yarns such as the story of the cook who saved the steamer Hastings when it got turned around and went the wrong way on Lake Ontario and that of the Argo that made a rocky trip up the Detroit River.

GHOSTS OF THE GREAT LAKES:

More Than Mere Legend

M. Long

The Great Lakes have a colorful past that spans hundreds of years, stretches over thousands of miles and sometimes crosses into the spirit world. Ghosts of the Great Lakes takes readers from the far western shores of Lake Superior to eastern Lake Ontario revealing haunting and strange tales. These whispers from the other side, however, are based in history and fact. Read these historical accounts of the Great Lakes most fascinating ghost stories and judge for yourself - are they more than mere legend?
