NO TEARS IN HEAVEN

1926 Barnes Hecker Mine Disaster

Thomas G Friggs

The worst mine disaster in Michigan history. The nation was stunned by the news. On November 3, 1926 with more than fifty men working underground, the Barnes-Hecker Mine caved in. The iron mine, near Ishpeming in Michigan's central Upper Peninsula, employed fathers and their sons, brothers and their brother-in-law. No Tears In Heaven pays tribute to these men by offering a glimpse into their lives, their livelihood and the gripping events of that autumn day.

NORTHERN REFLECTIONS

Jerry Harju

This book is a collection of things the author considered "big deals" when he was growing up in the 1940's. Set in Upper Michigan, this book is delightful reading for those of us nostalgic for the good old days!

0514AVP Paperback $12.95

NORTHERN D'LIGHTS

Jerry Harju

"My second book, Northern D'Lights, is a collection of humorous short stories about the rigors of growing up in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan in the 1940's. To me, even now, the Upper Peninsula is a strange, wonderful and somewhat uncivilized place, but when I think back to prehistoric times, when I was a kid, it was even more so. What I've done in this book is create fictionalized versions of things that happened to me and characters I met during that time. I hope you enjoy them."

NORTHERN PASSAGES

Jerry Harju

The third book about my early years in Michigan Upper Peninsula, and I'm now getting into the sleazy material. Just kidding, I did veer toward something sleazy in one of the stories, but this book, like the first two, is chock full of wholesome adventures during my "clean-cut boyhood."

SEASONS OF THE NORTH

Photographs by Jeff Richter

The great northwoods is a terrain of placid lakes, dramatic skies, and tangled woods - a country whose splendors are often hidden, subtle, and seasonal. Richter's photographs reveal the audacious declarations of wild cherry blossoms in late spring, the brooding aftermath of a summer storm, and the austere decorations of snow and ice in winter. This collection of photographs is a testament to one man's patience, appreciation, and reverence - and his ability to convey the beauty of each season to those who share his appreciation.

NORTHERN MEMORIES:

More high-spirited tales of "Growing Up North"

Jerry Harju

Here at last! The fourth in Jerry Harju's ever-popular "Northern" series. Northern Memories is a collection of reminiscent stories that will jab the funnybone as the reader is transported to Upper Michigan back in the 1930s and '40s. High excitement and danger when Jerry's mother tries to learn how to drive his Model A Ford. Live the agonies of true love in the fourth grade, complicated by corduroy knickers. These and several other stories make Northern Memories an entertaining and heartwarming reading experience.

SYMBOLS VIEWING A RURAL PAST

Jerry APs

They are the symbols of our rural past, scattered throughout the countryside, on farmsteads, in villages, and at the crossroads. Some of the symbols have little or no practical use today, others are as significant now as they were a hundred years ago. All the symbols are important, whether practical or not, for they are reminders of our histories, of the days when our ancestors worked the land.

ECHOES OF DETROIT

A 300 Year History

Irwin Cohen
This chronological history of Detroit tells the story of the great industrial city from its beginning as a French fur-trading outpost in 1701 to its new era of hope and renewal in 2001. Who was Woodward? Who was John R.? Who was the "Real McCoy?" Where is the statue of Detroit's meanest man? Which skyscraper was named after a river in Maine? Where was the Lone Ranger born?

BOB-LO REVISITED

Photography by B. Rauhauser, History by M. Magid

The photography in this book of Bob-Lo Island and the excursion boats Ste. Claire and Columbia were made over a period of forty years. They might serve as a catalyst to remind Detroiters who made Bonb-Lo a frequent summer outing - and all those around the country who were frequent or one-time visitors - of all the wonderful times Bob-Lo provided; first as a child accompanied by her parents, later on a first date, then with their own children, and finally as seniors enjoying a warm day on the river.

MICHIGAN SOLDIERS IN THE CIVIL WAR

Frederick D Williams

Professor Frederick Williams of Michigan State University was one of the three members of the centennial commission's publications committee. It is fortunate for Michigan that he was. Besides directing the commission's publications efforts, Professor Williams authored Michigan Soldiers in the Civil War. His manuscript first appeared in Michigan History Magazine before being published as a book. This fourth edition has been expanded to including a new design, more photographs and an updated reading list.

Step into your own personal CD-ROM library. Click on a book from the bookshelf, and up comes the text. Click on pictures to view photographs that relate to the text. Next, click on the VCR to see the black-and-white, Academy-Award-winning documentary film, "The True Story of the Civil War." The film consists of photos taken by Matthew Brady, Alexander Gardner, Henstis Cook, George Cook, Timothy O'Sullivan, and many others and captures the saga of the Civil War. The original "wet plate" photographs were actually made more than one hundred years ago on the field of battle. And you are there, thanks to The Civil War. Matthew Brady was known worldwide by many Presidents, diplomats, socialites, and, for the purposes of this presentation, by the soldiers in the field of battle. Capturing on film the hardship and the moment of the Civil War, he accompanied General Grant through Virginia. He photographed battles from Bull Run to Gettysburg, Fredericksburg, Antietam, Cold Harbor, and the Petersburg campaign. Also included are thousands of questions and answers. W = Windows. FROM BOTH SIDES OF THE DESK

T. Melchior
From Both Sides of The Desk is the memoir of Tom Melchior's school journey, which begins in the first grade and ends on his last day of teaching. The book is filled with stories by the author's students as well as Melchior's anecdotes that explore such questions as: Why should we tell our stories? And do teachers make a difference? The author's stories begin with his spelling and finger painting experiences in elementary school and continue with his adventures in junior high, high school, college, and his 34 years of teaching.

Michigan: Its Land And Its People

ANNOUNCING A NEW PROGRAM TO HELP STUDENTS

- * MEET MICHIGAN NEW FRAMEWORK FOR 4TH GRADE SOCIAL STUDIES
- * PASS THE NEW SOCIAL STUDIES MEAP TEST TO BE GIVEN IN 5TH GRADE

The textbook Michigan: Its Land and Its People put the student at the center of the learning process. Students are not treated as “passive” readers, but are thrust into stimulating situations in which they are motivated to learn. All the new 4th grade strands and standards are covered. Through the book’s dynamic activity approach students learn to master the process skills they need in both social studies and language arts. (Now available in both hard and soft cover).

Soft $19.95 1-9 copies, $16.95 10-29 copies, $15.95 30+ copies
Hard $23.95 1-9 copies, $20.95 10-29 copies, $19.95 30+ copies

Making Connections: Michigan and the Wider World serves as a companion workbook. It provides a series of carefully constructed activities that supplement and enrich the material in the basic text. These activities help students “make connections” between their community, their state and the world beyond.

Soft $12.95 1-9 copies, $10.95 10-29 copies, $9.95 30+ copies

Mastering the Social Studies MEAP Test, Grade 5 prepares students to do their best on this demanding proficiency test. Several chapters help students to become “test-wise”. Special sections teach students how to interpret all the basic prompts that will face on the test and how to answer selected response questions. Other chapters prepare students to answer constructed and extended-response questions.

MICHIGAN EDUCATORS RAVE ABOUT THIS PROGRAM!

“This is a superb textbook...The activities are exactly what teachers in our district need to prepare students for the new MEAP test in social studies.”

“These are the only books my students have ever used where they work harder than I do. What’s more, they really enjoy the activities.”
